APRIL 2011

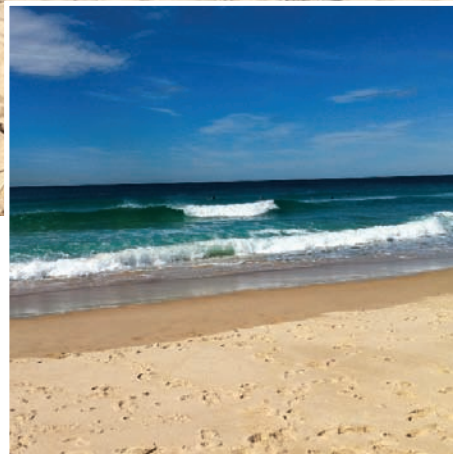

amazing april

Missed a month (Marvellous March?) and I started to get withdrawal symptoms.

As a result, after much begging and pleading, our Amazing Super Editor reluctantly gave in and has let me back into the inner sanctum of the CCMB club newsletter editorial management group to put fingers to the keyboard for another round of dastardly dreary daggy and dire drive!

Not much doing at Lakes SLSC for what was a small crew of around 20 members. Offshore and very bumpy, and so, as we surfers often do, knowing it will probably improve, we waited and waited and waited some more until a favourable report came in by the amazing and faithful CCMB carrier pigeon that Budgewoi was the (not quite) amazing place to be. 1st roundabout, 2nd left and into the beach car park.

Arrive and look for the priority parking that wasn't there, (it's the only reason I do this job!). Unhook the trailer with help from Clive, and manage to find an amazing and rare double spot for Landy and trailer.

Through the car park with various bits of gear, over the hill and setup on the beach with pretty good conditions (although only small waves) and the promise of better to come with the wind swinging from NNE to NW.

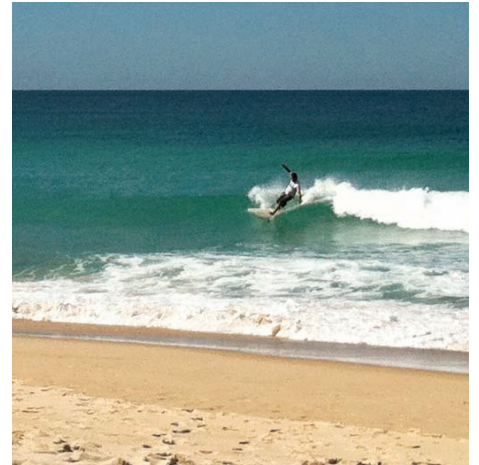

It did prove to be a pretty good day for cruising, lairising and generally showing off with a number of amazing nose rides, a few fives and also a beautiful hand drag in the shorey leaving a nice track through the wave by Jye. Short, but very sweet.

The only gripe for the day was from your scribe who thought it was a bit rough when our contest director had the audacity to manage a 7 man final heat. Self (of course) was not aware of the fact that this was in fact the second last heat made into the last through a lack of numbers! A curse on bureaucracy! Definitely UNamazing!

To make matters worse I was allocated the black rashy, only thing was there wasn't one in the bag. I was about to do unspeakable things to the person responsible for this dastardly error when the realisation hit me that it was the gear stewards job. This with about two minutes to the start of the heat. A dash to the car park, grab a rashie, back to the beach and late again!

Of course a wave or two would have been nice, but how good were the conditions with a gentle offshore, warm water and slightly warmer air. AMAZING!!

Congrats must go here to Clive T; what a dark horse we have here with Clive taking 1st place in his final. This coupled with 8 footers and Old Mal. Amazing job!

we would all agree that there is nothing at all wrong with two surfers riding the same wave at the same time.

Amazingly amusing was an event that I believe may have been a first in the CCMB as father and son Dan and Hugh Daugaard (Doorgard, John?) Were dual recipients of the Gumby Award for extreme aggression, which could have ended with some family blood, spilt. We would all agree that there is nothing at all wrong with two surfers riding the same wave at the same time. It's just not advisable to be heading directly at each other!!!! I believe all ended amicably although I hear that both are still arguing about whose wave it was.

Nicko wasn't available for this month's fun and games so we have to extend our many thanks to his amazing other half, Donna- Lou, for carrying out delivery duties thus ensuring the starving mob were well fed and watered by days end.

I think all were grateful for the pleasant northerly wafting through the car park during the social part of the day.

Results given, raffle drawn, Gumby presented and the Daugaard's still arguing about THAT wave. All in all, an amazing day.

Don't Count the Days, Make the Days Count.
See you next club day, J.O. Snr.

preso REPORT

The last club outing up at Budgewoi was a new adventure for the club, it was the first time up there and if it wasn't for the local knowledge we were in danger of our first cancellation for the year. Thanks Simon for the late tip.

Jimmy Olsen senior is back – better than ever after the writers convention, (what writers block?). He certainly summed up the club day for April. Thanks Jimmy.

The Magoo Charity Classic was held over the 30th April and 1st of May weekend which saw some pretty beefy waves at Lakes Beach, culminating in nothing short of an epic final day at Cabbage Tree Bay (Little bombie).

We have quite a few individuals and businesses of the Central Coast to thank in making this year a great event – culminating in the highest ever amount of money raised for charity. And this year had a very special meaning for Barry, whom is not in the best of health.

When Baz hit the water for his heat it was really fitting that we were surfing in his backyard and the hoots from the shoreline as he caught waves was fantastic.

Behind the scenes Deb McGuigan, Phil Morgan and Sojo were tracking down sponsors everywhere and the final figure raised is just incredible.

The event does not run without a lot of effort behind the scenes and dedication from the CCMB members, it was a great comp again and John Fraser was all over it leading from the front well done JF.

To be associated with such a great event and worthy cause is truly humbling for all involved and the input into the local community for such a small club is amazing, as the great songwriters Paul Kelly and Kev Carmody so aptly put it "From Little things big things grow".

To thank all our great sponsors head to the Magoo site; magoocharityclassic.com.au and if you need goods or services of any kind these are the people to support as they have supported the event!

This coming weekend we will be at Avoca, see you all there Sunday 7.00am sharp at the shark tower.

2011 MAGOO charity classic

For over ten years the club has been running 'The Magoo Charity Classic' in honour of our own living legend Barry 'Magoo' McGuigan...

Day 1 dawned overcast with occasional rain, so it was a bleak start to the 2011 Magoo.

I had stayed up at Soldiers on Friday so I could get in early to check out the predicted massive swell and strong SE winds.

Soldiers was a washing machine and the swell was well over the 6ft mark. The 6am view of Little Bombie was not very inspiring, dribbly fat waves on high tide, so that was out. Over to Lakes and found a bumpy 6ft plus peaky left with occasional right.

The old lakes shore break was working as well and was the best on offer – so the call was made for Lakes in front of the Club House.

Thanks to all the CCMB club members who helped set up, and got us up and running at 7am with the SUP event in the water first.

Unfortunately the swell did not impress many of the SUP riders and a few were not seen, or keen to suit up and tackle the overhead conditions. For those that braved the conditions there were some mighty rides with big open faces that enabled the SUP riders to show their style. I was very impressed with the way they handled the big bumpy conditions.

Big thanks goes to our Gear steward, Tony Bayliss for helping out the Lions Club. The old Holden commodore was not built for dragging trailer over sand

But Toyota Tony's 4x4 made short work of hauling their trailer through some very soft sand.

MAGOO 2011 Charity CLASSIC

There was some great surfing on the first day with big drops, carving turns and a few barrels as well. Or cover-ups as the judges kept telling me... I am sure it was a 3 second barrel and clean to! Photos didn't help me either!

With the Booth's Motor group showing off the Hyundai's and Slimes Board store lending out boards of all sizes and shapes it was a great day to be on the beach. Sea FM were spruiking the contest on the airwaves and the weather kept getting better as the day went on.

Auction night started almost on time... You know 2 hours late... The Norah Heads Sports Club was the original venue for the Magoo when it first started and it was fantastic to be back at the Sporties. Great food and plenty of cold drinks to mellow out the ferocious bidders. The auction went at a cracking pace with some real bargains and some very charitable bids being thrown around. Morrie Worboys is still trying to work out how he bought a pair of 8ft board bags and he is still not sure if they were a good a price or not! You have to love your mates bidding you up all night but remember that all $$ go to that very important charity; cancer care and research for the Central Coast.

All up the Magoo 2011 auction raised over $10,000 what a great start.

Sunday dawned as a gem of a day. Clear blue-sky slight SW winds. Again Little Bombie was not be helped by the high tide and the swell, as predicted, had dropped. Lakes at 6:30 am looked smaller than Saturday. So we setup at lakes again and like clockwork we were running on scheduled for 8:20 am start.

Well did Huey play a trick on us all! Within the hour the swell had jacked to 8ft plus with some solid 10ft drops. Dave (Danger) Hayes was in the second heat and when he got out he expressed his concern over the dangerous conditions. Hazy likes a big wave so when he tells you its dangerous you know he is not mucking around! A quick surf check found that the dropping tide and increase in swell was just right for Little Bombie. Decision made, for the safety of competitors let's move the contest! Wow you should have seen the looks on the Lions Club faces! They had just cooked up a batch of bacon, eggs, sausages, and onions and were in full serving mode....

What was great to see was how every person on the beach dug in and made a huge effort to help move the lot. People were rushing around helping the Lions Club and Slimes pack up 20 plus surf boards. In just over one hour we were up and running again at Little Bombie, and what a difference! With the increase in swell and lower tide at Little Bombie, it was pumping!

Thanks to the Norah Head Search and Rescue for allowing us to use their facilities at the last minute. The judges had positioned themselves in the prime position, with spectators sitting on the grass watching the competitors and dolphins. It really was a sight to behold.

For the next five hours we were treated to some of the best waves we have ever had at a Magoo contest. Look at our web page and facebook pages for a sample of the waves. No more needs to be said about that....

We finally finished up around 3:30 pm and with smiles all round we headed back to the Sporties for the presentation.

So a few more beers, lots of bragging about how deep the barrel was that you had in the finals and many a tail of stupid things that grown men get up to when drinking Tequila!

I would like to thank the whole CCMB team, the Committee and the members who helped make the Magoo 2011 the best to date. The presso Geoff Balken, Treasurer Greg Byrne and Dan Daugaard, Promotions / Sponsor dudes Deb Mcguigan, Phil Morgan and John Sojoski (always doing stuff) for sponsoring, Auctioning, commentating, Tallying etc. Tony Bayliss for hauling the gear and organising the Trophies, secretary Simon Smith and Marshal Duncan for organising Council and other items.

All those members that travelled up to Soldiers to help setup and pull down thank you. Many hands make light work.

So was it all worth it! Well the surf alone made the contest, the company enhanced the enjoyment and of course we did raise a few dollars.

Those few dollars raised this year was just a little over $82,000. How's that! This is a staggering amount of money and I would like to thank all the sponsors.

Finally one last thankyou to Peter Sharp for organising the SUP. This was the largest division and I hope to see you at next years Magoo and I hope we can organise to have a bit less swell next year so we can get all the SUP's in the water.

Cheers JF

a Grom's view of the Magoo

The Magoo Charity Classic continued this year with another year of good surf and money raised for charity. For the week prior there had been the biggest swell of 2011. Only Fibbo was waxing up his log.

The first day of the classic was moved from an unsurfable Soldiers to a fun decent sized Lakes Beach. The set waves could offer some fast lefts and rights. The paddle out was fine but only once you got past the very hazardous shorebreak. There was one casualty for the day when Mikey Brown snapped his board while paddling out.

There were some great waves ridden and huge steak sandwiches eaten and day one was a good fun day.

The second day was cleaner and about two foot bigger than the day before.

We started again at Lakes beach. The older surfers were sent out like guinea pigs to test the conditions. The officials then decided it was unsurfable and moved us to a much calmer cabbage tree bay. Upon arrival, Cabbage displayed some perfect looking left barrels. As riders threw themselves into these waves (sometimes literally) they discovered that they weren't as easy as they looked. But, with the tide falling and lots of practice, there were some amazing barrels to be had. A highlight of the day was Barry 'Magoo' McGuigan paddling out showing the same bravery as he shows during his current battle with cancer.

All up a very successful event with good waves and over $82,000 made to donate to cancer research on the Central Coast.

Hugh D.
